

Motivation Letter – Global Head of Solution Consulting

DeepL

Dear Hiring Team,

I am excited to apply for the position of Global Head of Solution Consulting at DeepL. With more than 20 years of international presales and solution consulting leadership experience at VMware and Citrix, I have consistently built and scaled high-performing technical sales organizations that directly impact revenue growth, win rates, and customer success.

My career has been defined not only by leadership responsibility, but by measurable business outcomes.

Selected Impact Highlights

- Led international Solution Engineering organizations across EMEA with 100+ consultants and managers
- Supported €1.000M+ annual revenue responsibility through technical sales strategy and enterprise deal execution
- Increased win rates by 20% through creative demand gen activities and value-based selling
- Built scalable playbooks and enablement programs adopted across multiple global regions
- Drove consistent double-digit pipeline growth through innovative discovery activities and solution positioning
- Coached and developed first-time managers into senior leaders, strengthening long-term organizational resilience

What I bring to DeepL

Scaling Global Solution Consulting Organizations

I specialize in transforming solution consulting into a strategic revenue driver. I design organizations that are predictable, metrics-driven, and tightly aligned with go-to-market strategy — not reactive technical support functions.

Enterprise Value Selling Expertise

My teams consistently translate complex technology into business impact for CIOs, CISOs, and operational leaders. This results in larger deal sizes, faster decisions, and higher customer trust — especially critical in DeepL's enterprise AI and language platform environment.

Operational Excellence + Leadership

I combine strategic direction with operational rigor:

- Defined global KPIs and performance frameworks
- Implemented standardized methodologies across regions
- Introduced talent development and leadership pipelines
- Built cultures of accountability, ownership, and customer obsession

Experience in High-Growth Software Environments

Having worked with cloud, SaaS, and platform businesses, I understand the challenges of scaling quickly while maintaining excellence — from rapid hiring to international expansion and cross-functional alignment.

Why DeepL

DeepL's combination of AI innovation, strong product-market fit, and accelerating enterprise demand presents a unique opportunity to build a world-class global solution consulting organization that directly drives growth. My experience building exactly these kinds of organizations at scale makes me confident I can contribute immediate and lasting value.

I would welcome the opportunity to discuss how my background in building high-impact solution consulting teams can support DeepL's next stage of global expansion.

Kind regards,

Markus Klein